What makes a game into less of a game and more of a social addiction? We have seen a lot of bizarre portrayals of games presented in current culture. The mindless shoot-'em-ups, the hyped-up games whose violence is at times disturbing, the pure cash offerings that are lined up at big game stores and sedate stores alike, and then there's "Fortnite". Nostalgia meets action with lots of guns, toting around a few other blocks here and there to ward off creatures, all while somewhat resembling an early social game version of Battle Royale.
