April 11, 2018 - No, you don't need Clone Bootloader SSL 84D for this image, unzip it. Send the ipk file via FTP (via DCC or FileZilla) to tmp> /var/tmp. You can change it to get the "correct" tmp image (an IPK image file in /var/tmp), but you can't change the extension, so you'll have to extract it twice. And I'm assuming that your image will have a .zip or .rar extension, so you'll need to unzip it twice. You can use the fzip utility to extract the image from zip files, and you can use rar2vim to extract the vim.vim file from gzip archives.
