Abbott: The newest addition to the Proflex line is UCM. This uncoupling membrane features specially formulated, patented fill, which addresses projects that require waterproofing, sound control and crack isolation. Proflex UCM can be installed using non-modified thin-set or Proflex HMA multi-function waterproofing adhesive. It can be used over pre-existing flooring and almost any substrate, as well as for any job requiring a shower pan, exterior drainage mat or waterproofing membrane. The K2 crack liner product is designed to cover all cracks in a concrete or masonry subfloor to eliminate moisture problems. For a concrete floor, a cement base coat is recommended. It can also be used as an overlay for a good concrete or cementitious subfloor. In both applications, the liner material should be installed over the cementitious subfloor and allowed to cure before application of the thin-set mortar. When laid over a thin-set mortar layer, the K2 liner material provides a moisture barrier similar to that of a cement-based membrane product. The difference is, the K2 liner product works with thin-set mortar instead of cement-based mortar. This is not a self-leveling membrane, but it may be suitable as a substrate for tile, particularly with latex modified mortar. Most type and brand of membrane range from 8 mils to 11 mils. If a membrane is specified to be from one to four inches, it will be the membrane that is closest to 4.5 mils. The remaining three mils, which may be difficult to see, are the final "mil" specification. The final "mil" or "tenths of an inch" specification is important, particularly to avoid installing membranes which are too thick for the subfloor, perhaps more than a depth of three-quarters of an inch.

Dal Cim 500 Crack Isolation Membranes

This membrane is
a modification of the Proflex
MAXXIM
manufacturer's
product line of

crack isolation
membranes.

Unlike the
MAXXIM product,
a “late”
membrane. It is not recommended
for use under subfloors (unless used specifically for this purpose). The average crack transfer is reduced by one to two R's. It is difficult to remove if applied over one thin layer of concrete. If you are just looking to reduce the “leakage” of traffic, this would be a great choice. However, if you are planning a larger room with

no other traffic
movement, this
would probably be
a better choice
than the Proflex THIKLAR or MAXXIM bags. It
will be more

difficult to remove, but not a deal-breaker. The
manufacturer
suggests that you
contact them
before applying
this membrane,
as it will be

impossible to remove if used
over a substrate
type that it was not intended to be used over.

Contact the
retailer for more details.

Manufacturers,
such as Schluter,
are also available
to help you
determine
whether this is a
suitable product
for your installation. For a listing of other crack isolation membranes, consult the manufacturer's specification sheet or the product detail page. The most common issue

with full-
penetration
membranes is that it is almost impossible to get
the tile to be level
if it has any movement.

Additionally, it is difficult to maintain alignment of the tile and ensure a flat surface.

Products in this category generally are applicable to

sealed substrates
only. This category includes
products sold
under the names
of EasySet,
EasyCatch, Papalote, and

GlassRite. 5ec8ef588b
